THE LIFE OF

Ricky Derek Ramdhaney

1978 - 2021

Ricky was a cherished son, brother, uncle, friend, and colleague. For international students, he was a friendly, welcoming, and calming guide as they took each new step of their university journey. For his colleagues, he was a dependable, collaborative, and always encouraging friend – someone you could count on to act with integrity, optimism, and kindness in every situation. And for the many in our community who he helped, in big and small ways, through his volunteering, his kindness is a bright spot that will forever be a part of their own life story.

We will never know the full impact Ricky had on so many people, but we are forever grateful for how he has touched each of our own lives.

Ricky, we will never forget the joy and light you brought to our UCalgary family.
